CHARLES A. CHAPMAN, Collector:

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Citizens of Salisbury:

We beg your attention for a little, while we render our annual report for the year ending Aug. 1st, 1903.

We have little of interest to offer, yet there are a few things worthy of mention as they are of vital importance to the children of the rising generation.

One thing is the utter indifference shown in some sections of the town by the parents. Too many tardy and absent marks appear on our registers. Children are allowed to stay out for the most trivial reasons. We have seen children too sick to attend school but well enough to be out coasting. Parents should visit the school at least once during each term. The result would be gratifying alike to teacher, pupil and school board.

Formerly girls and boys attended school until they reached the ages of 16, 18, and even 20 years. Now, since the enactment of the present law requiring school boards to give labor certificates when so desired, to scholars fourteen years of age, many of our pupils "graduate" at this age and very rarely any of them go to a higher school. Parents, the blame for all this wrong is justly laid at your door; the best legacy you can possibly leave your children is a good education and this cannot be acquired at the age at fourteen.

At the last annual meeting the district empowered the board to consolidate the schools and if they saw fit to grade the same. Accordingly the Smith's Corner and Mills schools were consolidated, also the Heights and South Road, the North Road scholars conveyed to Shaw's Corner in Franklin, thus maintaining only two schools instead of five as formerly. The plan worked well. More interest was taken in the school work by the pupils. Financially it was also a success, as the children were conveyed much cheaper than the three extra schools could be supported.

The grading plan did not seem, after due consideration, feasible and was not adopted as the conveying could not then be kept within the 25 per cent limit allowed by law.

We have tried to be careful in our selection of teachers and feel that in this respect we have been reasonably successful as our schools have shown faithful, earnest work.

Respectfully submitted,

LEANDER N. SAWYER, } School Board
JUSTIN T. STEVENS, } of Salisbury,
